WHAT WILL HAPPEN?

The four years since the last local option election have nearly elapsed and what the "reformers" intend to do I do not know. The last election was held March 17, 1905 and the result was 1,711 wet and 1,434 dry. There has been a wonderful change of sentiment against the saloon since then, and if the matter is again submitted the few saloons that yet remain will be overwhelmingly voted out.

I fail to understand why there is no agitation. The election could be ordered during the February term of court and the election ordered for March 18. But there is nothing doing. Whether the alliance formed between some of our political preachers and the saloonkeepers has anything to do with this "apathy," I do not know. Nor do I care.

MRS. JOHN FRIEND DEAD.

On Friday of last week death parted the oldest pioneer couple of the county. Mary, wife of John Friend, departed this life at 21. John Friend was born June 21, 1830, within two miles of where he now lives. In 1840, in Kentucky, a girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Snider and named Mary. Soon after, the Sniders moved to Scott county, and in 1859 Mary was married to John Friend—the ceremony being performed on the "Friend farm" now occupied by F. M. Friend, adjoining Oran.

To the union were born three children—Virginia, James and Nancy. Of these only Nancy, Mrs. Andrew Metz, survives. Virginia was Mrs. J. W. Clemons and died in 1884. James died in infancy.

Deceased was buried in the old Friend cemetery Saturday, and the outpouring of the people attested the high esteem in which the aged couple were held.

The husband and relatives requested the Kicker to express for them their sincere thanks to the community for the kindness shown.

SOCIALISTS MEET.

The quarterly meeting was held at C. H. Hall, Morley, Saturday. About thirty members were present. The report of Secretary Jacob showed an organized, dues-paying membership for the first quarter of 1906—53 at Edna, 43 at Morley, 20 at Vanduser, 5 at Oran and 5 at Blodgett. Oran has added three additional, making the total 124. That looks good for a starter.

It was decided to have Miss Carnegie Hollowell to lecture at various points in the county during this month. She is now in St. Francois county and the exact time when she will be here was not known. The subject on which she will lecture is "Why Christians Should Be Socialists." She comes highly recommended by ministers and church people. Her charges are $2 for lecture and expenses.

Comrades present asked for letters of Morley, Vanduser, Edna and Hickory Grove. It other points would let notice should be sent to Secretary Jacob at Farmington, and to this office at once, so the dates can be arranged and published.

The meeting adjourned to meet again the last Saturday in March.

FROM MACEDONIA.

Frank Brook, colored, who had been staying at N. O. Ellis' for several years, fell Christmas and was fatally injured. He died Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Sanders, who have been visiting Mrs. Sanders' father, who has been sick at Benton, Ill., returned Saturday.

The box supper Saturday night was well attended and everybody reported a nice time. Not afterwards were $12.

Miss Linda Roschell, of Cairo, Ill., who has been here for some time, returned Sunday.

There will be preaching at the Macedonia church Sunday, Jan. 19, at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Bell Blankenship, of St. Louis, is visiting her father, T. A. Matthews.

Rose Garvey is visiting in Edna.

FROM ROOTWAD.

As a New Year's prank someone scattered to the four winds a half mile of tenral fence belonging to W. H. Tanner.

Bill Darter, the boy preacher, is holding a meeting here. Rev. Darrow will come Saturday.

John Smith has returned from a visit to his parents in Tennessee. There was a musicale at L. C. Hargrove's New Year's night.

Last week some cruel boys clubbed Monroe Gwaltney's horse.

Albert Wylie, of Sikeston, will soon move to his farm.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peters.

Isaac Clois was very sick Sunday, but is better.

F. E. & C. U. of A.

The county union will meet with New Hamburg local January 12th and 13th. All locals are requested to send delegates, for there is business of importance to come before the meeting. Public address by G. W. Evans, of Sikeston, Tuesday evening, at 7 o'clock. Everybody invited. Geo. A. Vinyard, County Secretary.

TO THE KICKER'S FRIENDS.

I am sure that the loyal friends of the Kicker want to know the exact situation in the newspaper field. They know of the unscrupulous efforts of the organized business interests of the county and their officials here to put the Kicker out of business, and many have pledged to pay $5 per year for the paper if it becomes necessary.

I am glad to be able to inform them that nothing of that sort will be necessary—judging from the present outlook. While "the interests" control the advertising and job work and the officials hand the public printing over to their organ without warrant of law, yet the Kicker can live without this. All I ask is that you remain firm and get every new subscriber you can.

The men who are at the head of the court house organ are putting the loud pedal on "the bible" and "Christianity"—since their signposts failed to get the saloon back. Yet they will receive their merchant stockholders and others by representing that they have a circulation.

The organ has the smallest circulation of any paper published in the county—with the possible exception of the Chaffee Review. Its strongest ally is the saloon—in towns where saloons exist. Their circulation is confined chiefly to Sikeston, Oran, Benton and Kelso precinct. At these four points combined they have about 200. At Kelso the saloon and banking interests are especially active—although the chief stockholders of the bank are Republicans—as is also the cashier. But that does not interfere with their support of a "good" Democratic paper. At Edna, where they have two saloonkeepers and the bank cashier is stockholders, they have 12. At Illinois they also have two saloonkeepers and the bank cashier, but their circulation there is about the same as at Edna. At Chaffee, Morley, Vanduser, Crockett, Blodgett, Commerce, Dierhards they have practically nothing except the raw business and professional men of the towns—many of whom are stockholders.

Due to the two saloons at Hamburg they have about 30 subscribers at that postoffice. But I am glad to be able to announce that these are already "coming back" in droves. Other farmers who have been victimized may be expected to do likewise as soon as the "shine" wears off the gold brick handed them.

But their effort to get the farm area to take hold of their paper has been wonderfully barren of results. Not only has every stockholder done his best, but they had a canvasser going over the county—who quit in disgust. Besides this, they are paying postmasters, unscrupulous commissioners, and when you find a postmaster who urges you to stop the Kicker and take the organ, ask him if he is influenced by the commission he would get out of the change.

The lastest blow delivered to the organ was last month. W. H. Heisserer is president of the Benton Bank and is intimately associated with the interests that own the organ. He attended the meetings when the plan to start the paper was being discussed, but, because of some rupture, took no stock. However, his father is a stockholder and all his work goes to that office—except advertising.

Mr. Heisserer is the deputy postmaster and the postoffice is in his store. He knows the circulation of the two papers. Consequently he placed his holiday advertising in the Kicker and not in the organ. I overheard a part of a conversation between him and Cashier Johnson, and while silence prevailed as soon as his presence was discovered, yet I felt sure that Mr. Johnson was trying to get him to place his advertisement in the organ also. What I heard Mr. Heisserer say was this: "No, it would be like throwing money at the birds."

That the organ has had a wonderful advertising patronage during its existence is true, and so long as the merchants are satisfied to pay for advertising to be read by themselves, this will continue. But some of them are catching on—and others will. Keep a stiff upper lip, let the capitalists read their paper, you read the Kicker and get your neighbor to do likewise, and all will be well.

As for the Kicker, it would be folly to say that their new move has not temporarily injured its business. But this move was to be expected—and is the very last card they have to play. Our trump card is not to let them wheedle you into letting their paper come into your home—and we have them whipped. They can come about you with some mighty "honeyed" words—but don't bite. Let them read their own paper. However, they have many advantages. They have little to do and plenty of time. When a farmer has anything due him from the county, or when he brings a load of grain to the mill, he must go to the bank for his money. When he appears as cashier

Johnson screws up that smile, produce a copy of the organ and says: "Here, you want to take our paper—best paper in the county," etc. The victim cannot say he hasn't the money, for it is being paid to him—and often a sucker is caught. But, in spite of all this, this is one instance where the workers of Scott county have a chance to show the bosses that the workers are "the people." It was on the workers that this paper was founded, and with such a foundation, I ain't skeered. The fight is really your fight—not mine. It is not Phil. Hafner, the individual, they want out of the way, but Phil. Hafner, editor of the paper of the working class.

During December I received 110 new and renewal subscribers. This is 63 less than during the same month in 1907. But, in 1907, I had many who were delinquent for several months, and quite a number of these paid up during December. This year I had no such delinquents. Hence I judge that there has been no falling off. While I lose a subscriber here and there, a new one takes his place.

This is the critical month—January. In this month more than 200 subscriptions expire. In every section friends of the paper should become especially active so that none will be allowed to lapse. Do not delay in sending in your own renewal at once, so that we will not have to waste energy in holding you. Then go out and see if your neighbor has done likewise—and if he is not a subscriber, make one of him. Put yourself in the thick of the fight and let's show the gang how insignificant they are when left to their individual efforts.

Where the postmasters refuse to accept subscriptions for the Kicker, send a money order or paper dollar at my risk. If yours is not a money order office, and you can get no paper dollar, send fifty 2-cent postage stamps. We'll manage some how. At Blodgett J. D. Green or Alex. Thompson represent the Kicker, and at Oran Will Maddox will take your subscriptions.

Now I want every friend of the paper to send in at least one new subscriber within the next ninety days. You can do this if you will only try. Think what that would mean! Why, it would paralyze our "best people" who labor under the hallucination that nothing can succeed in Scott county without their approval. Don't wait—but start right out and do your part. Who will be first?

FROM OWENSBY.

Mr. and Mrs. Chamberland, of Charleston, visited with H. C. King last week.

Miss Ella Borns, of Charleston, visited Miss Iva Cheving last week.

H. C. King and family visited relatives in Charleston last week.

Will Huse and Miss Donnie Wallace were married Saturday.

AROUND BENTON.

The Kicker was so crowded last week that two columns of local news had to be cut out and correspondence was "boiled down." Benton personals were entirely omitted. Mrs. Horace Nelson, of St. Louis, spent Christmas with her mother, Mrs. Feeling; Miss Mary Robert, of Cape Girardeau, visited her brother, Andy Robert; Capt. Gray, of Graysboro, visited Mrs. D. H. Leedy; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goetting, of Grandin, visited her mother, Mrs. Jenkins; Mrs. W. A. Miller and son, Wade, were in St. Louis; Chas. E. Bonnet, of Cairo, Ill., came up to see pa and ma; Miss Clyde Brazer and cousin, Rolin McGinnis, spent the holidays in Kentucky; Miss Norma Timenstein accompanied her uncle, Al. Hink, to Gordonville; Clarence Hutson was down from the Cape; Miss Martha Hunter was home for the holidays; Mrs. B. Hugh Smith was with homefolks at Dexter; Wade Norrid was down from St. Louis, and—there were evidences that Dr. Sawpe was needed to do a little repair work.

Jack Phillips, a sandywoods township lad who is in jail charged with swearing falsely in a seduction case tried here in December, tried to escape Sunday. Sheriff Gohert trusted him to empty some vessels, and he hit out. He was captured soon after. But why does not the law apply to all alike? When a public official takes the oath of office he swears that he will obey and support the laws! Are the officials of Scott county obeying section 4689 printed on the first page of this issue? If not, then why is Jack Phillips the only one in jail charged with perjury?

George A. Legrand, who lives two miles west of Oran, was here Monday and told of the accidental killing of Jimmie Wiloughby, 15-years-old, and a near neighbor, on Christmas day. Jimmie and his brother, Walter, were out hunting when the dogs got to fighting. In trying to part them Jimmie used the butt of the gun and it was discharged—entering the stomach. He lived 42 hours.

When H. G. Keiser, of Booneville, Ind., reads his Kicker during 1906 he should remember it as a Christmas gift from John Keiser, of Sikeston.

Wm. Bray, of Morley, was here Wednesday. He will teach the Chaney School in Richwoods—owing to the resignation of Miss Mitchell.

When John Chapman, of Poplar Bluff, reads his Kicker he should regard it as a Christmas gift from J. D. Green, of Blodgett.

A. J. Crutchfield, of McMullin, and P. H. Sanders, of Monodonia, were here Tuesday.

Deputy Sheriff Will Ellis and Miss Kate Rodgers were married at Morley Tuesday.

"Long live the Kicker and its doctrines," writes J. L. Shinkard, of Millerville.

A severe head storm is reported from McMullin Monday night.

T. W. Swafford has moved from Redman to Pleasant Hill.

L. Danberry moved his drug store into the Rising building.

FROM MORLEY.

Your tax receipts show that you paid road tax last year, the year before, the year before that, etc. It's a good thing something shows it—the roads don't. You can't get out from Morley in any direction without driving through ponds of water which are almost impassable when frozen.

It just kept a fellow dodging this week to keep from being run over by a moving wagon. Scott Eskridge moved into a house near Mrs. Rhinore's and Mrs. Wm. Clayton moved into the Eli Ward property.

Plummer Abbott has sold out to Wm. Hollick and will move to Blodgett. Wm. Hollick in turn sold out to Leo Strayhorn, who will move as soon as Mr. Hollick vacates.

Rev. J. L. Howie went to Oran Wednesday to preach the funeral of Thos. Jolly, who was converted in the first meeting Bro. Howie held in Scott county.

We saw an industrious young man cutting stalks on New Year's day. We have heard that "The early bird catches the worm."

Jas. Jacobs moved to his new home just east of town and Sterling Marshall moved into the house vacated by Mr. Jacobs.

A revival meeting was begun at the Baptist Church New Year. Rev. G. R. Daugherty is preaching for Bro. Howie this week.

Rev. Hoppis, a Baptist minister of Wayne county, is stopping with J. B. Kirkpatrick this week.

FROM BLEDA.

A tramp unlocked the school house door, went in and built a fire. Nothing missing.

George Steinberg, our new merchant, is running a free delivery to Parker.

Andy Amrhein and his mother and Jim Blocker are sick.

Prospects for Longevity.

A quarter of each generation die before attaining the age of 17, but a man at 32 years of age may expect to live for another 32.

FROM NEW HAMBURG.

Our community was shocked by the death of Mrs. Vincent Heisserer on Thursday evening of last week. Mrs. Heisserer had not been feeling well for some time. On the evening mentioned she ate a good supper and mended the clothing of her grand-children until after 8 o'clock, when she complained of not feeling well and went to bed. Her husband asked if he should get the doctor, when she asked for the camphor and rubbed her head. Again the husband suggested that he get the doctor, and she replied, "You had better go after the priest."

Mrs. Heisserer went for Father Moening, but when he arrived she was speechless. She died in her husband's arms between 9 and 10 o'clock.

Anna Katherine Dirnberger was the sister of the late Michael Dirnberger, who died at Oran last month. She was born in Germany in 1844 and came to America with her parents a year later. The Dirnberger family landed at New Orleans with no definite place of settlement in view. Coming up the river the boat became disabled at Commerce and could go no further. At Commerce the father learned of a German settlement near Benton and a Catholic Church and a few Catholic families at Benton. They settled on the place now owned by W. C. Lambert.

But the Germans could get no hold there. They refused to settle in the low lands south of town because of health, and the high lands were owned by the well-to-do slave-owners of that day. The Gange family got hold of the place yet occupied by the descendants south of Benton. The nearest government land the Germans could get was here, and about 1857 the church there was abandoned, this parish organized and the Dirnberger family moved to what is known as the old Dirnberger homestead.

At St. Vincent's Church, Cape Girardeau, November 20, 1864, Anna Katherine was married to Vincent Heisserer. The attendants were John Heisserer and Miss Walburg Pfeifferer and Xavier Struck and Miss Christine Halter. Four days later Mr. and Mrs. Heisserer settled at Commerce where they lived until December 1879, when Mr. Heisserer had to resign as county treasurer or follow the removal of the county seat to Benton. In 1899 Mr. Heisserer moved to New Hamburg.

To the union was born twelve children—nine of which still live, viz: Mary E. (Mrs. B. J. Tenkhoff), Oran; Wm. H. Benton; Crescent E. (Mrs. E. C. Miller), Oran; Julia E. (Mrs. Louis Burger), Edna; Ludovica (Mrs. C. L. Profit), Point Pleasant; Colletta (Sister M. Olevia), Joliet, Ill.; Thos. S., Oran; Conna (Mrs. Louis Dohogne), Kelso; Zeno, Sikeston.

The funeral took place Monday at New Hamburg and, although the weather was severe, the attendance was very large.

Vincent Heisserer, who is 72 years old, is making his home here with his son, W. H.

Death claimed another of our oldest settlers this week. On Tuesday Mrs. Michael Gosche died in her 73rd year, after an illness of several weeks. She was born in Belgium, April 12, 1836, and came to this country with her parents and settled in Ohio in 1844. Two years later they moved here. Her maiden name was Dohogne and she was a twin sister of the late August Dohogne who died at Oran last fall.

In 1858 Mary Josephine Dohogne was married to Michael Gosche by Father Leo, who then presided over this parish. To the union were born nine children—four of which survive, viz: Mary (Mrs. Joe Goisner), Oran; Katherine (Mrs. John Morris), John B. and Leo, P. A. all of this parish. Grand-children there are 20, and great-grand-children, 12.

August 5, 1903, Michael Gosche died. Since then the widow has lived in her cottage here and her greatest delight was to make it pleasant for her children and grand-children when they visited her. She was buried Thursday forenoon and the funeral was largely attended.

Mrs. Wm. Morrie died at her home 3 miles west of New Hamburg. Deceased was sick only about 24 hours. She was a daughter of John Schitter, of near Bleda. The remains were buried here at the St. Lawrence Cemetery on the following day.

Last week Leo Grojean had one of the biggest hog-killings in this settlement. There were six men, seven women and sixteen children—twenty-nine in all—present and Leo says they didn't all come. If Joe Walter had come then three generations would have been present.

Mr. Grojean is a jolly good man and his neighbors are glad that he is with them again.

Uncle John Diebold and son, Joe F., and family and Miss Helen and Mrs. Mary Rosel and children, of Kelso, and Sol. Hahn, of Scherer-ville, came over New Year's day. Here they were joined by Sol. Diebold and all went to the swamps to visit Chas. Diebold and spend a few days hunting.

Louis Goetz was at Cape Girardeau last week and Dennis Graesser was also there Thursday of last week.

We wish to correct a mistake in last week's Kicker. It appeared in the New Hamburg items in the item in which we told of the selling
